Last updated on September 2, 2020 Storing your racket is something that is needed, especially if you own a professional racket that comes with a higher price. However, there is a difference between storing a racket in a case and having a paddle and ball holder that will make two in one function. Ping pong paddle and ball carriers will store and have all your equipment near the table, and this will not only be available to you – but also to your ping pong partner. There's no better way to rest your mind than to know that your racket is safe until the next use – and with these ping pong and ball holders, you get the best out of the best. MEOLLO Table Tennis Storage Rack Wall Mount If you have a ping pong table at home, it should be a joy to play it with your friends and family whenever you want. However, what do you do when you are no longer playing? This table tennis storage rack can be wall mounted to hold some paddles and up to 6 standard ping pong balls. It is made of stainless steel and is produced in Europe, providing a small and elegant but convenient quality rack that you can put anywhere in your room, garage or even outdoors. It can be mounted on any material, be it a wall or wood, which is another useful feature. This ping pong paddle wall bracket would be great for storing paddles and ping pong balls. MyGift Rustic Rustic Wood Rack display of pong pong mounted on the wall The quality of this wooden paddle rack is remarkable. The manufacturer has ensured its durability by providing a beautiful construction and wood finish. You can easily mount this rack on the wall. The rack can easily hold 6 ping pong paddles at a time on its top shelf. Also, under the top shelf, there is enough space to store your ping pong balls as well. The product comes with proper mounting hardware and a manual to instruct the user on how to mount this wooden rack. Due to its high-level quality, the solid construction and perfect finish of this wall-mounted table tennis club and ball rack are compatible with internal and external use. The value on the price of this product is quite high. It's a good option to add more detailto your game room without going for expensive game room items. Franklin Sports 4 Player Table Tennis Paddle and Ball Set Franklin Sports features a set of unique and convenient paddles and balls that come with a good handover and ball carrier. This set includes 4 paddles with different fronts for greater control and 6 table tennis balls, packed within a good Depending on whether you will use the paddles or not, you still have a very convenient and quality organizer that you can use with your own paddles. What's really cool is that this organizer can Attached to a ping pong table for the best convenience. EastPoint Sports 4-Player Paddle & Ball Set with Organizer This is one of our favorite organizers, as it has many places to hold up to 4 ping pong paddles and 6 balls, and can even be attached to the side of a ping pong table. It comes in an elegant black color that makes it attractive, but won't distract players during matches. This organizer even features 4 paddles and 6 balls that you can use or replace with your own paddles and balls. Conclusion These organizers are unmissable for someone who is playing ping pong regularly and still doesn't want to come home to pick up another racket every time someone enters the match. Therefore, any of these organizers makes a great gift for any opportunity, and we are more than happy to receive one of them as a gift. Whether you're going to mount it on a wall, on the table, or anywhere else – it doesn't matter. What matters is that it's convenient for you. Most ping-pong tables come with a section where you can keep your paddles and balls, but some don't. If you have a ping-pong table with a racket for each family member, then you may need a racket stand. It is usually made of some nylon fabric and attaches to the side of the table for easy access. There is another type of ping pong paddle holder though. It is made of wood and can be mounted on the wall. This type of rack is perfect if you want to show off your racket. Here are the best paddle props on the market you can get today. This is the cheapest paddle holder you can get. It can store 4 paddles and 4 balls. Perfect for the family table tennis table. It attaches easily to the side of the table with a velcro strap. This means that you can at any time unpick the bag from the stand and take it with you like a portable transport box. If you do not want to put the strip on the table, you also have the option to attach the box with screws or ropes, as it comes with 2 holes of metal eyelets. The design is very simplistic, some will like it, others will not. The material is very durable and considering that you will not put too much pressure, it should last a long time. If you find that you are losing your paddles or that they get dusty because you are storing them outdoors, then this paddle holder will greatly enhance your experience. And considering the price, it's easy. Very similar to Puredrop, but with a very significant difference. The paddle holder includes 4 ping pong paddles and 6 balls in the package. These paddles are of low quality, as you can expect, but are good enough for kids and casual players. They are pips-out style rackets, so the spin that can be generated will be minimal, but they are more than enough for basic volities and strokes. If you want a more serious racket we have a better article that should make the choice easier. It must be right side of the page. This paddle holder is fastened only by screws ropes as it does not include an adhesive Velcro strip. The Franklin Sports set offers a lot of value for the price. Not only do you have a great paddle holder, but you also get 4 paddles and balls with it making it one of the best starting kit available to your family. Unlike the other two, this was designed to be attached to a wall. It also functions as a showcase for your beautiful table tennis rackets. The build quality is very good as it is made from multiple layers of Birch designer wood and has a smooth finish. You will need two screws to attach this paddle rack to the wall and unfortunately they are not included. It can hold 2 paddles and 4 balls making it more suitable for couples or playing single games. Although it costs a little more than the others, it pays off with the elegant and high quality look. Ping pong paddle supports are a great way to store ping pong paddles, as they use unused spaces such as walls and some can be hung on the crossing bar under the table or hooks on the walls. They are perfect for holding and organizing shovels and sometimes balls for efficient storage and to find them easier. Most table tennis paddle supports are usually made with nylon fabric and mesh to hold the table tennis balls. There are also paddle supports that are made of wood, steel and plastic. Usually these types of paddle supports are hung on the walls using screws and screws. The 5 best ping pong paddle brackets are:Here is a list of some of the best ping pong paddle supports you can buy:1. Meollo Table Tennis Storage Rack Wall Mount (100% Steel) This ping pong paddle storage rack is mounted on the walls using two screws. But unfortunately, the screws are not included. That said, they are sturdy and well built since they are made of steel. It also does not scratch the racket blades as they are mounted as hangers in the rack. It can contain five paddles and six ping pong balls. Its elegant and elegant design makes great looks on the walls and is also an addition to the interior design of the games room.2. Best Showcases Deluxe Clear Acrylic Vertical Ping Pong Paddle Wall Mount Bracket (A052) This simple stand is also the same as the Meollo paddle rack where it is also wall mounted. What is different, though, is that it can only hold one racket at a time and does not hold table tennis balls. Screws are included when you purchase this product as opposed to the above product. This is a product that is mainly used to hang signed and award-winning ping pong paddles. So if you like to have your paddles autographed by the best ping pong players in the world, this product is the best for you.3. EastPoint Sports 4-Player Paddle & Ball Set with Organizer This rowing organizer is one of the paddle storage options cheapest ping pong available. Unlike the other two above, this is mounted using hooks on the walls or under the table. When you buy this product, it comes with four paddles and six balls, but you can also can them and instead put the paddles and balls you use frequently. The paddles that come with this set have pimp rubbers for easier control, but it's not great to give the ball too much spin. It does not come with hooks or screws, however, the suction cups are used instead, but to be tougher it is better to use hooks and/or screws. This means that you can uncouple this bag at any time and use it as a shipping box for your paddles. This bag keeps playing clean and tidy area. And also, this is great for teaching kids how to keep the play area clean and organized. Overall, at this price, this is a good buy.4. Franklin Sports Industry Varsity Tennis Set (57304) This similar to EastPoint Organizer as it also comes with ping pong paddles and balls when you buy. It also comes with 4 paddles and 6 balls. The erasers here are pimped like the paddles that come with the EastPoint set. It has 2 eyelet holes that can be easily hung off hooks or use ropes to mount it under the table. The stand is easy to hang off the table and is out of the way. This product is also very cheap with just one dollar difference with the EastPoint ping pong paddle holder. Overall, at this price, this is another great choice.5. JOOLA Table Tennis Set for Family This product is also similar to the EastPoint organizer and Franklin Sports organizer because they use hooks and/or ropes to be attached to the crossbar under the table. This set comes with 4 paddles, 5 white balls and 5 oranges of 40mm table tennis. Unlike the other 2 above, this set comes with paddles that have soft rubbers and 4 more balls. The organizer also comes with 2 metal eyepieces and is easy to attach to the hooks. The mesh that is used to hold the ping pong balls has ropes to tighten so that the balls do not fall off the organizer. Joola is a famous brand among table tennis enthusiasts, so the materials used in this product are of high quality and more durable than others; however, this comes with a price. This set is double the price of the EastPoint ose organizer. Although this product is more expensive than the others, the paddles, balls and organizer are of high quality. And as they are of high quality, this set is great for beginners who are learning to play table tennis and also for kids who tend to play with their equipment. Final VerdictAs a table tennis enthusiast, my best recommendation as ping pong backhand support is the EastPoint Sports 4-Player Paddle & Ball Set with Organizer. I have my own racket and my biggest concern is to prevent the dust from going into the paddle rubber. This organizer prevents dust from going to the rubber surface. Since dust can ruin and damage the rubber used in table tennis and EastPoint does a great job of preventing this, I recommend this as one of the best props ping pong rowing. It also works as a racket box and easy to carry. At the same time, it is cheap that frees more money for Best paddles, erasers and balls to improve gameplay instead of buying expensive ping pong brackets. However, I would choose the Joola Family Set for its durability. I remember having this at our table tennis club and the organizer is very sturdy and durable. We used it for several years before being completely destroyed due to natural causes. Despite being more expensive than other products, it compensates its price with higher quality materials for durability, strength and is able to withstand stress and difficult conditions. But you can buy any of these as they serve your purpose of organizing your ping pong accessories and keeping the games room tidy and tidy. They get shovels and balls from the ground and furniture. All this is great for family, friends or anyone who wants to keep their table tennis materials organized and ready to play at any time. Always.
